 11. The request for reconsideration has been considered be See Continuation Sheet. 12. Note the attached Information Disclosure Statement(s) 13. Other: 			ance because.

Continuation of 11, does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: The definition of telecommunitions is the transmission and reception of information of any type, including data, television picture, sound, and facsiniles, using electrical or optical signals sent over wires or fibers or through the air (See Microsoft Computer Dictionary, Fifth Edition); therefore, the communication system of Austin does not exclude from the definition of telecommunications, and Austin clearly shows to specify the hardware to be used at the workstation, the user is provided with a list of possible hardware models to select from. Once a personal computer model has been selected, a visual image of the back of the personal computer is displayed as frame on the screen for the user to control the complex system with a clear, concise and intuitive interface between the user and a complex system (see Abstract and Summary of the invention). The graphical image of the back of the personal computer displays connection points in the same position, size, and visual image as found on the actual backplane of the box thereby making the user's task less difficult. Through the use of the graphical image, the user is able to select the appropriate hardware as installed in the server workstation, as well as the required connectivity options as required by the application software program (Summary of the invention, and figs. 5, 11, 13, 14 & 16).
